Kim Rosenfield
September 2015 Task

Why Do Ghasts Cry???

Well, the ghasts were once in the normal world, but they kept on shooting fireballs everywhere. Notch became annoyed at them and banished them into the underworld(Nether). After that, they were so sad that they cried forever.

---

well, notch could have taken away their fire power instead of make such a cute creature cry!

They are SO CUTE!!!!!!

They are fat, cute sounds, short waving tentacles, and beautiful red, flaming mouth

cuteeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee

They are so cute why couldn't they leave them in the normal world?

Well, think of Notch as God. Before Jesus was born,there was a time when everyone in the world was the same race and spoke the same language. One day, man had the idea of building a ladder to heaven so they could see it for themselves. since they all spoke English and had no stereotypical attributes whatsoever all men got along and worked hard on the project. GOD, however, didn't like that Man was trying to get to his home. Instead of just making it impossible to build up to heaven he decided to make races,different languages and religions. Taking away the one thing that the people all had in common, their ladder collapsed over time. Now, this may have solved the ladder problem, but this created a much bigger problem over time, as the biblical lore goes. Does it really make sense to do this since it created a bigger problem than the one that existed before? does sending the Ghasts to the Nether because of their bad breath sound right? No, but we've gotten past it. No need to go into it further.

Notch spawned them in the normal world when he created them. Then he got mad at them for shooting fireballs everywhere, so he banished them from being in the normal world. He sent them to the Nether. They cry forever until they are in the normal world again.

> I don't think Ghasts shoots fireballs everywhere because they are only hostile to players, and by the way, Ghasts dont stop crying even if they are in the Overworld.